Dear Dr Uri, Dr Masita, and colleagues at UI's International Office,

I hope this message finds you well.

I’m delighted to keep you informed that UQ Global Partnerships has just launched Round 1, 2024 call for application for the UQ Global Partnerships Funding Scheme (formerly known as the Global Strategy & Partnership Seed Funding Scheme). The Funding Guideline is attached.

This funding scheme aims to support UQ stakeholders in developing and strengthening engagement with UQ’s selected partners around the world. You will find that Universitas Indonesia continues to be among the selected partners UQ is focusing on strengthening engagement with. In the past rounds of funding, there had been 9 projects between UQ and UI funded under this scheme.

Application for this funding scheme needs to be led by UQ personnel (researcher/academic/professional staff). Hopefully we will see more projects to strengthen UI-UQ engagement in 2024.
Kind regards,

Ms Thoa Harring

Background

The 2024 round of Global Partnerships Funding scheme is now open to applications, with a closing date of 1 July 2024.

To support the successful implementation of the Global Engagement Framework, the Global Partnerships Funding scheme has been created to assist UQ faculties, institutes and units to pursue activities with specific international partners that will strengthen the impact of UQ’s global network. There is $100,000 available for this round.

Objectives

The Global Partnerships Funding does not fund research. It aims to strengthen collaborations that may lead to further teaching, learning, research innovation and government/industry engagement.

This round aims to:

• Enhance partnerships and stakeholders’ collaboration by providing financial support for innovative joint activities.
• Leverage partnerships to continue to strengthen UQ’s global impact and brand.
• Improve external awareness of the value of partnering with UQ and the impact and outcomes of collaboration.

The partners eligible for this funding are listed on page 3. Projects with the University of Exeter, Technical University of Munich, Indian Institute of Technology Delhi, and Emory University are not supported as they have their own funding schemes.

Funding details

Applicants can submit a proposal for up to $20,000 of funding per initiative. The funded initiatives must comply with UQ travel policy. Examples of the types of initiatives that may be funded include:

• organisation of joint symposia, workshops, exhibitions, mobility projects, and webinars. The requirement for travel must be justified as part of our commitment to decrease carbon emissions.
• local activities (in Australia and partner countries) that supports the expansion of engagement in accordance with the Global Strategy.
• participation in listed partners’ engagement initiatives or events to enhance UQ’s profile and global outreach.
• initiatives that promote the development of industry and government linkages.
• initiatives that may lead to external funding applications.

In the first instance, please liaise with your Faculty/Institute finance office for the administration and timeline of funding administrative requirements. If the applicant does not expect to use the funds within the current year, please apply in the following year. At the end of the project, residual funds are to be returned to Global Partnerships (GP). If your project spans up to 12 months, your Finance Manager must approve the funds to be carried forward at your Faculty/Institute level, as the funds will be transferred in August.

UQ Central Finance will not carry forward any unspent funds; carry forward of funds has to be managed locally within the Faculty/Institute finance office.

Eligibility Criteria

All UQ professional staff, academics and researchers are eligible to apply to the Global Partnerships Funding scheme.

• The lead applicant should have an ongoing UQ role or contract that exceeds the project duration.
• Eligible applicants should demonstrate evidence of support from their unit in the form of co-funding (cash or in-kind), and applications must be signed by the Head of School.
• Proposals must clearly demonstrate the benefits to UQ’s engagement objectives with partners.
• The project scope should be clearly defined in the application and avoid cross over with other UQ internal grant schemes.
• Collaboration should involve multiple individuals and departments across UQ and ideally partners from multiple institutions.
• Eligible expenditure items must comply with UQ policy.
• It is permissible to use up to 50% of your funding requested grant amount to fund labour costs of Australian employees directly to deliver the core elements of the project (i.e., project administrator). It is preferred that the School/Faculty matches the labour costs.
• Expenditure related to production costs (such as freight or artists’ fee), interpretation and translation costs, advertising and promotion, graphic design and photography, and publications and printed materials are eligible.

The following items are not eligible for funding under this scheme:

• Professional staff development, such as attending a conference or workshop that does not benefit the broader strategic partnership.
• Travel grants for individual researchers or students, unless the application demonstrates how this is integral to achieving broader engagement outcomes with the listed partner.
• Any research activities, for example, laboratory costs, research data collection, publication open-access fee.
• Purchase or transport of equipment and research materials.
• Subsidy of general ongoing salaries and administration expenses.
• Research grants, salaries for research assistants, or top-up research funding.
• Initiatives that are already receiving funding from another UQ internal grant scheme, including projects which have been funded by the Seed Funding.

Assessment

Applications will be assessed and endorsed in the first instance within your faculty or institute, then submitted to GP for a review of compliance and adherence to the eligibility criteria and scheme objectives. The final decision will be made by a selection panel of senior executives, led by the Pro-Vice-Chancellor (Global Partnerships). Applications will be assessed in accordance with the following criteria:

Anticipated outcomes and benefits:
- alignment with goals outlined in the UQ Global Engagement Framework
- contribution to partner strategic objectives (applicants should refer to the relevant partner strategy in their application, see ‘More Information’ section)
- likelihood of initiative to strengthen UQ’s profile with partner
- alignment with faculty/institute international priorities
- breadth of benefit to UQ stakeholders (e.g. involvement of multiple faculties/institutes/portfolios, HDR candidates or early career researchers)
- tangible deliverables, e.g. submission of external grants, co-publications, long-term linkages with partner.

Co-funding:
- Applications that are expected to demonstrate co-funding by the faculty/institute/school, either in cash or in-kind. This may be a combination of funding from the school/faculty or centre/institute.
- Provision of funding or in-kind support from the partner institution will also be taken into account.

Acquittal and reporting of project funds

Awardees must agree to adhere to all requirements related to the receipt of funding, including deadlines and procedures for acquittal of funds and reporting on outcomes. Failure to submit the report on time will deem the applicant ineligible to apply in the future rounds.

Project funds will be transferred to the awarded projects by August 2024. Awardees will have up to August 2025 to utilise the funds in full for the planned project or initiative. Funds that are not utilised within the specified period are to be returned to GP.

Upon completion of the project, successful applicants will be required to provide evidence to GP of the acquitted funds against the budget. Awardees will also be required to submit a brief report using the template provided, outlining the outcomes of the project, the future direction of collaboration and prospective opportunities that should be considered. This report will be utilised by GP for the follow up of potential opportunities, as well as country briefing reports and potential profiling on GP communication channels including the GP website. Later in 2026 we will ask you to update us on the impact of your collaborative effort.

Applicants awarded the Global Partnerships Funding who embark on international travel are required to abide by the official UniFi travel approval and booking processes, reporting, insurance, visa, and registration requirements as outlined in the UQ Travel Policy and Guidelines (https://travel.uq.edu.au/).

Additional associated costs incurred by the applicant above and beyond seed funding awarded will be the responsibility of the approving faculty, school or institute, or individual applicant.
